ORDER PROCESS AND DELIVERY OF GOODS

Upon receiving the order confirmation, the components are arranged and forwarded to assembly line. It takes 5-6 days to build and test a machine. Stress test and benchmarks are done before sending the machine to the packaging and logistics team.

Ant-Pc will initiate the dispatch of goods only once the full payment has received. In any case where additional packaging is required to secure the product from transit damage, we take necessary steps.

Estimated time for doorstep delivery is 6-8 working days and email will be sent before dispatching the order. Prior information to be provided by the customer in case of non-availability at the time of delivery of goods.

UNBOXING

You are responsible for inspecting the package upon delivery and must note the visible damage on proof of delivery by making an unboxing video of the machine.

The power cord which comes with the psu has either Type D or Type G port and no hdmi/vga/dp cable is provided with the machine.

WARRANTY AND SUPPORT

Every Ant-Pc comes with standard manufacturer warranty and lifetime technical support (which is provided on call /email or virtual access).

Antpc does not take any responsibility for software support or any hardware fault arising from any software related issue or modifications done to the machine.

Standard time for replacement or repair of any component is 2-3 weeks as per manufacturer's policy and antpc is not responsible for any data loss during replacement/repair or onsite visit.

DOA

In case of DOA of any component, customer should inform Ant-Pc within 7 days from date of delivery. Post 7 days, standard warranty procedures will be followed. For EDL location, conditional DOA will be provided.

RTB

Return to base warranty means if any of the component becomes faulty during the warranty period then customer will have to send the faulty part to ant pc service center & ant pc will send back the replaced/repaired part to the customer. If we receive an item that is physically damaged, it will be returned to the buyer at their expense.

ONSITE SUPPORT

Additional onsite warranty can be purchased from Ant-Pc's website while ordering your pc. Ant-Pc has various service partners across india and technician is arranged from the local service partner during onsite visit.

Turnaround time for technician visit	24-48 business hours
Onsite timing	Monday to Friday, 10 am to 6pm

Note: No/Conditional onsite warranty is provided in EDL locations or as mutually decided between both the parties.
